INSTRUCTIONS:

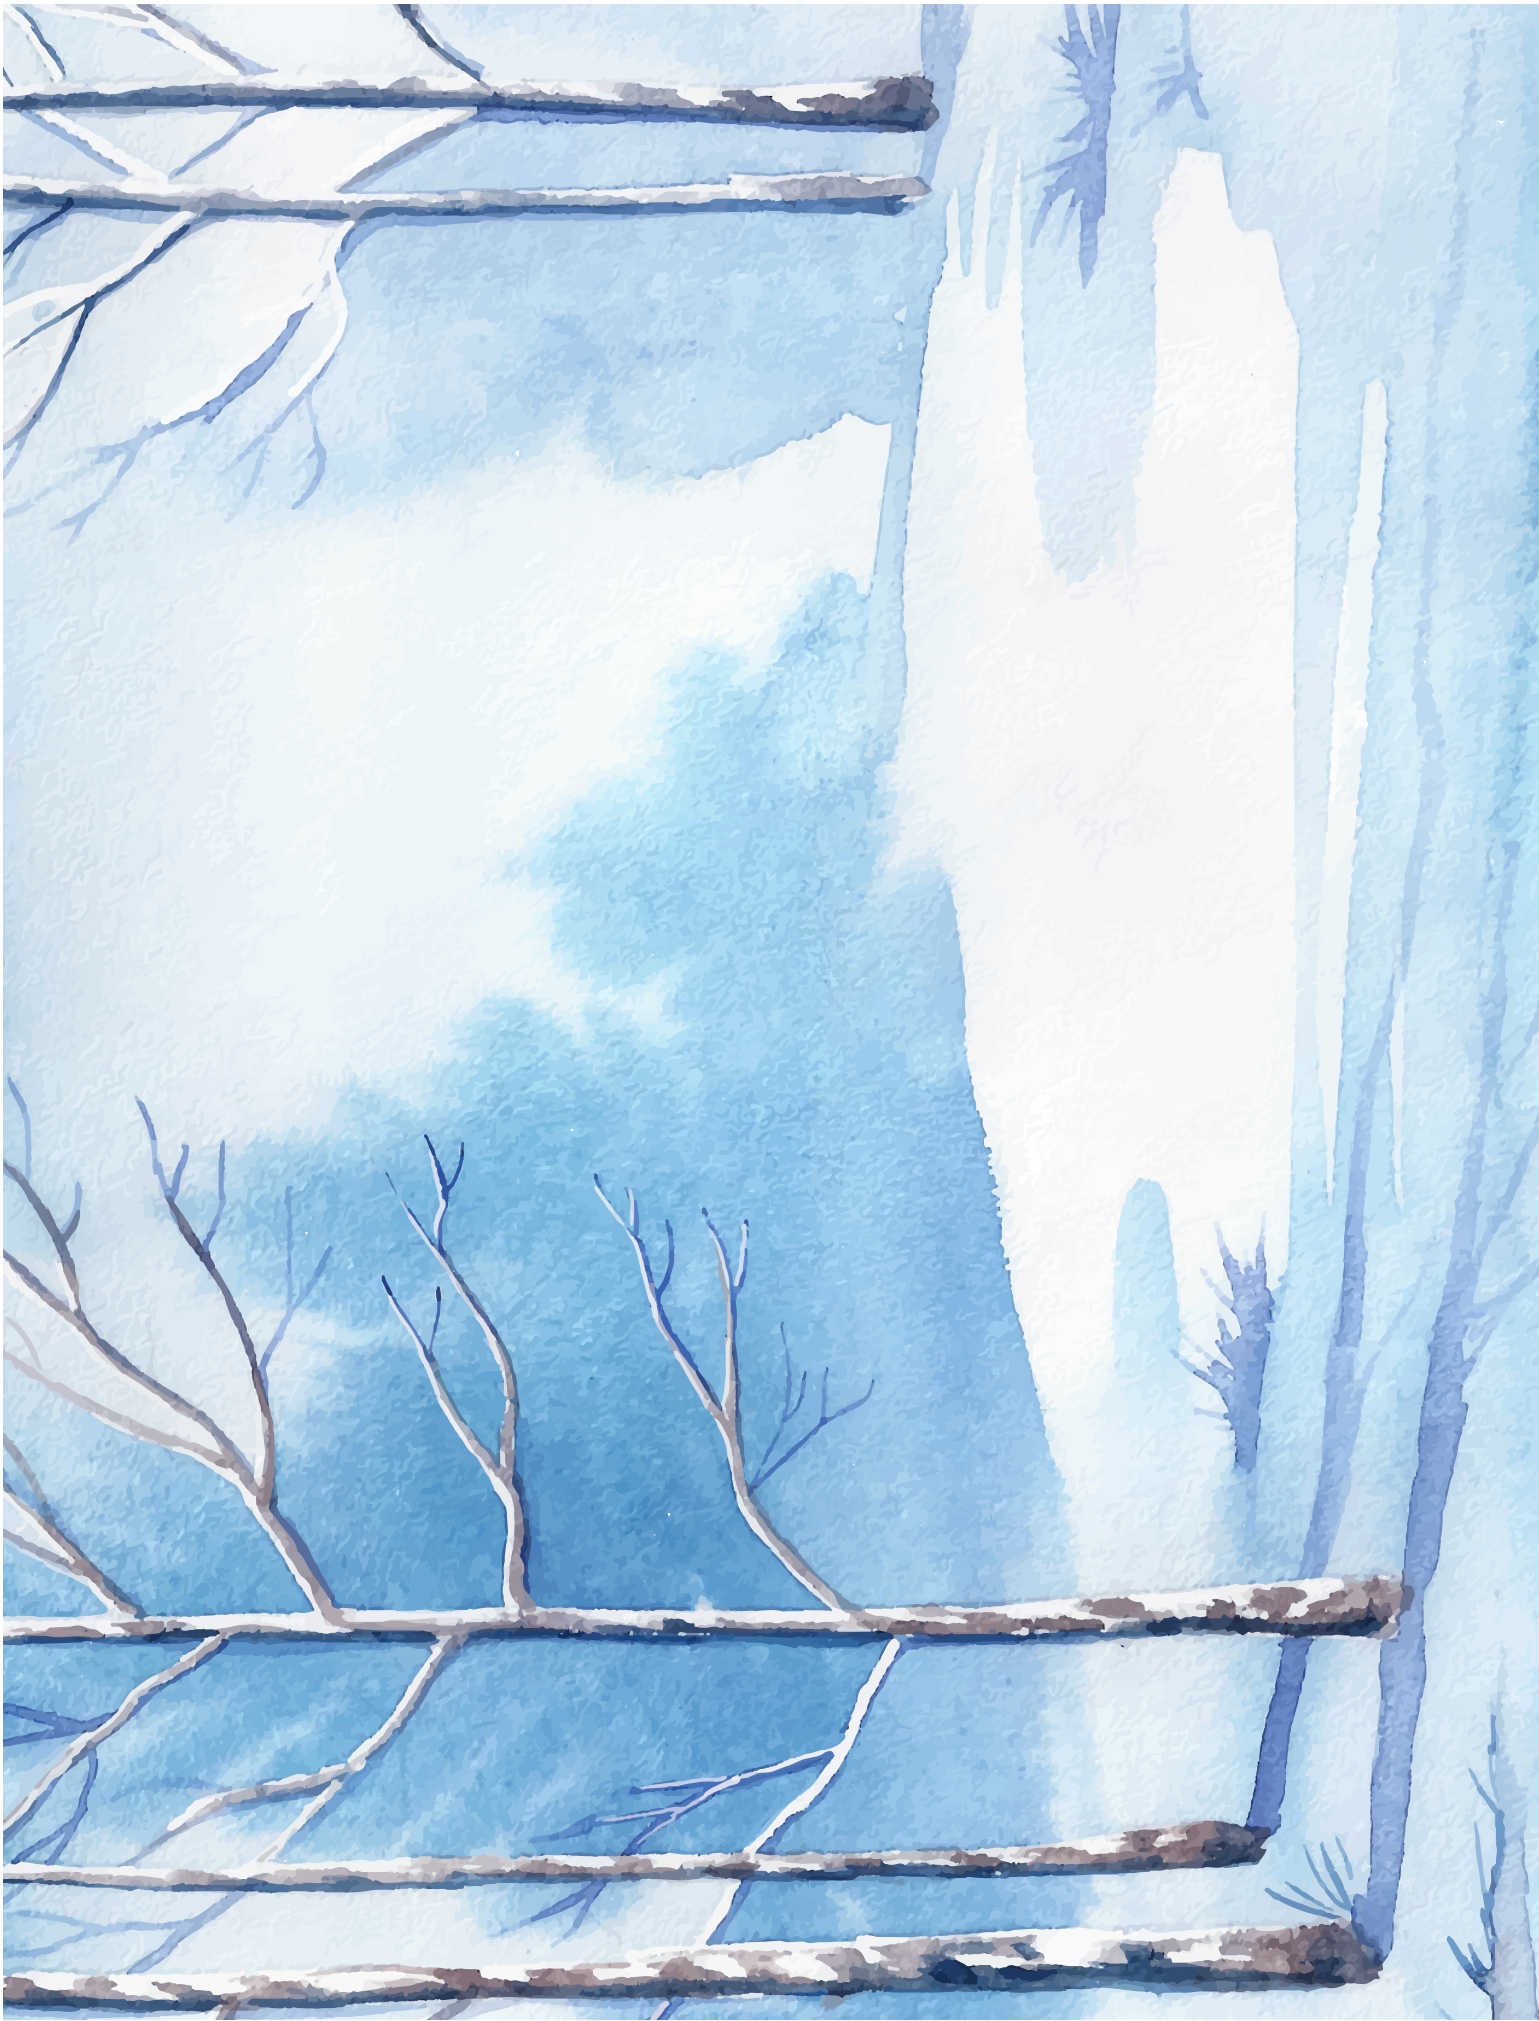

Storyboards are excellent, simple tools to engage your children in imaginative play and play-narration (after a story reading). Simply print the following pages on sturdy paper and laminate if you desire. Then trim the animals from their background. Allow your child to freely play or narrate a recent read aloud using the animals and provided scenes.

There really is no “right or wrong” way to use these tools. They’re affordable alternatives to toob animals and, when laminated, can be used in sensory bins as well (to an extent, depending how wet the bin is).

Have fun!

Polar Scavenger Hunt

Read a favorite polar animal book with your child. Look through the images in the book to find each animal in the scavenger hunt.
